U. S. Appetites Keep Food Up

Agency Reports High Demand Holding Prices at Lofty Level.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2—Keen American appetites for plenty of good food—and a willingess to pay for it—are helping to hold farm prices at high levels.

The agriculture department so reported today, adding that this heavy domestic demand is getting considerable assistance from expectations that exports may be larger than anticipated and "speculative buying" in the grain markets.

Officials said that despite a substantial increase in food prices since most price controls were dropped, the per capita consumption—particularly of meats, poultry products, milk, and vegetables—continues above pre-war levels.

Consumers are able to eat well, the department declared, because today income payments are at record levels and are still rising.

This being the situation, the department said farm prices should hold at "high levels" during the next few months." However, the agency did not alter a previous forecast that prices will turn downward during the second half of the year, possibly as much as 20 per cent.

The prediction of a decline was based largely upon expectations of a slight industrial recession in the latter part of the year.

Reflecting favorable farm prices, agricultural income for the first four months of this year is expected to total $7,700,000,000 compared with $6,100,000,000 during the same period last year.

The department said meat animal prices will average about 55 per cent above a year ago. dairy products about 33 per cent above, and all crops about 17 per cent above.

U. S. Predictions For Food Price Trends

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2—Here's what the agricultural department expects food prices to do during the next several months:

Meat—Prices in general to continue high through spring and early summer, with moderate declines in lamb and better quality beef.

Dairy Products — Declines through June.

Poultry and Eggs—Chickens and turkeys to increase slightly during the next few months, but decline during the last quarter. Eggs to continue near present levels for several months.

Food Fats Oils—To decline by later summer from present exceptionally high level.

Fresh Vegetables—Declines in prospect as marketing season develops.

Fruits—Slight advances in April and May. Strawberry prices to drop below a year ago.

U. S. BOLSTERS COAL SERVICES

Acts on Threat of Extended "Memorial" Shutdown of "Unsafe" Pits.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2 — The government tried to bolster its coal mine services today — amid threats of an extended shutdown of "unsafe" mines.

The six-day memorial work stoppage called by John L. Lewis for the 111 victims of the Centralia, Ill., catastrophe, is due to end Easter Sunday night. But union officials in two midwest districts declared the miners there will not work next week in pits they regard as too dangerous.

With this possibility in mind—plus the chance that still other diggers might extend the memorial period on their own, the 500 employes of the solid fuels administration were placed on a standby basis while that agency is being liquidated.

Legal Status Ends

So far as its legal status is concerned, the SFA was wiped out with expiration of the second war powers act at midnight Sunday—coincidentally, the time Lewis set for the start of the unprecedented nation-wide mourning period.

That also was the date the United Mine Workers chief set for the expiration of his winter strike truce—later revoked after the supreme court upheld his and the union's contempt convictions.

In a related development bearing on the coal situation, President Truman acted, also at Krug's request, to keep Dr. R. R. Sayers as head of the bureau of mines for the time being.

Sayers was to have been moved to the public health service, but Krug's choice of a successor, Dr. James Boyd, ran into bitter criticism from Lewis in two appearances before the senate public lands committee.

Works on Disaster Report

The interior secretary, meanwhile, kept at work on his report to the senate public lands subcommittee investigating the Centralia blast which took 111 lives.

Lewis will tell his own opinions about the Centralia disaster to a house labor subcommittee tomorrow.

Lewis accused Krug of "criminal negligence" in the Centralia accident on the ground that he did not act when a federal mine inspection report showed many safety code violations.

UMW District President Hugh White of Illinois and Adolph Pacifico, at Dillonvale, O., said they had ordered union miners to stay out of pits they considered unsafe.

U. S. TO HAVE 6,180 IN CHINA, MOLOTOV TOLD

Marshall Gives Figure on Military Strength Once Withdrawals Complete.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 2 — U. S. Secretary of State Marshall has informed Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that when the present withdrawals of U. S. troops from China are completed, only 6,180 military and navy personnel will remain, it was announced today.

The troops remaining in China will be there at the request of the Chinese government, the American secretary told Molotov.

Marshall said that American forces had repatriated 3,000,000 Japanese to their homeland from China, and then added: "As for the disposition of the estimated 700,000 Japanese taken in Manchuria by the Soviets, I have no information."

Meets Molotov Request

Marshall sent a letter to Molotov on March 31, meeting Molotov's request for an exchange of information by the United States and Britain with Russia on the status of the fulfillment of obligations concerning China as outlined in the Moscow agreement of December, 1945.

His letter was strictly formal. For the most part it suggested that Molotov read the statements which President Truman issued on Dec. 15, 1946, and Dec. 18, 1946.

Marshall's letter was distributed tonight by the American delegation press office. The report which Molotov presumably sent to Marshall had not been made public up to that time.

Britain Declines

Britain's Foreign Secretary Bevin ws reported to have declined to engage in the exchange of information, on the ground that China was principally a Soviet-American problem.

Marshall attached copies of the two presidential statements which, he told Molotov, the Soviet minister would find "self-explanatory."

Marshall earlier had been reported hopeful that the differences in the four-power foreign ministers council blocking progress on a German settlement might yet be composed. French and British diplomats took a more dismal view, however.

With the two presidential statements furnishing a background of U. S. policy in China, Marshall told Molotov:

"On Jan. 29, 1947, the government of the United States announced its decision to terminate its connection with the committee of three which was established in Chungking for the purpose of terminating hostilities in China, and its concurrent decision to terminate its connection with the executive headquarters which was established in Peiping by the committee of three for the purpose of supervising the execution of the agreements for a cessation of hostilities and the demobilization and reorganization of the armed forces in China."

Statement Made Then

Marshall said a statement regarding withdrawal of the Marine guard forces was made at the same time, and "this action permitted a substantial reduction in the number of United States military and naval personnel required in China, and removals are continuing as rapidly as shipping becomes available."

The current reductions are completed by June 1, Marshall said—there will remain only 1,510 army personnel, of which 750 compose an advisory group to the Chinese government. He said 1,171 navy personnel were mostly in weather stations at Shanghai, Tsingtao and Tienstin, and that 3,499 Marines were on guard and security duty.

Truman Shuffles His Corps of Diplomats

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2—President Truman today nominated John F. Simmons to be ambassador to Ecuador in another series of changes in his diplomatic setup.

Simmons, a New Yorker, has been serving as ambassador to El Salvador.

The President named Paul H. Alling, a foreign service officer from Connecticut, to be minister to Syria.

Selven Chapin of Washington, D. C., another foreign service officer, was named minister to Hungary.

British Ship Captain Injured In Bombing at Chinese Port

By The Associated Press

SHANGHAI, April 2—British Captain William Lee, of LST Wanshen, was seriously injured today when his ship was bombed and machinegunned while unloading UNRRA supplies at the Chinese port of Shihkiuso.

The planes were identified as belonging to the Chinese Nationalist government in reports to United Nations relief and rehabilitation headquarters here.

The planes, reports here said, subjected the Wanshen to three attacks in which the captain, Chief Mate William D. Haining of Vancouver, B. C., and an unidentified Chinese quartermaster were injured.

Legs Fractured

Lee, the report said, suffered fractures of both legs and was "bleeding profusely" when transferred to a hospital. Haining was wounded, not critically, by flying shrapnel and the Chinese quartermaster suffered a compound fracture of the left leg.

After the attacks the Wanshen put to sea and met the Wilkie, which had rushed to meet her in response to radio calls.

Shihkiuso is about 60 miles southwest of Tsingtao, where American naval craft are based.

Follows Protest

The attack on the Wanshen follows within two days the protest of UNRRA'S China director, Maj. Gen. Glen Edgarton, against two similar incidents.

Communist relief officials prior to todays bombing asserted they had government assurances that it would not interfere with transport of relief supplies to Communist areas.

HOUSE SHELVES RENT LID BILL

Postpones Action Till April 16 After Wrangle Over Increase.

WASHINGTON, April 2—Locked in a wrangle over a proposed 10 per cent general rent increase, the house banking committee voted 17 to 7 today to postpone all action on rent and housing legislation until April 16.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) said the committee felt they should have "a chance to think over" the hot issue of a rent rise.

The group voted tentatively 9 to 6 yesterday to include a 10 per cent hike in rents in a bill extending rent controls to next March 31.

But when the committee met again today, it approved a motion by Rep. Kunkel (R-Pa) to postpone final action.

The senate banking committee earlier this week unanimously rejected a proposal to allow a general 10 per cent rental increase.

As the house committee session broke up, Wolcott told reporters:

"The members want to think this think over during the Easter recess. This committee does not want to make any undue mistakes. We want to mull it over and see if we can't come to unanimous committee action."

President Truman prodded congress yesterday to continue "effective" rent and eviction control until one year from June 30, when present legislation expires.

Housing Out of Balance

"Dwelling accommodations, particularly rental units, are still radically out of balance with demand," Mr. Truman's message said.

He said he had "no objections" to transferring the rent controls from the office of temporary controls to the housing expediter, Frank R. Creedon, as is provided in one bill before the senate.

He added he still regards the housing situation as acute "de-

UN Palestine Session O.K.'d

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 2—The United Nations announced today that Russia, France and China had agreed to a special session of the general assembly on the Palestine case, thus clearing the final barrier to Britain's filing the explosive case with the international body.

The United States previously gave its approval.

"The British government would now send us the official notification," Victor Hoo, acting secretary-general of the UN, said.

British delegation sources said the document would be placed in the hands of the UN before nightfall.

ONE DIES AS TRAINS COLLIDE IN OKLAHOMA

By The Associated Press

ARMSTRONG, Okla., April 2—The Missouri - Kansas - Texas (Katy) Texas special passenger train and a freight train engine sideswiped today, killing one persons and injuring several others.

The dead man was Louis Hansen, engineer of the passenger train.

A. T. Ballard, fireman of the passenger train, was critically injured.

First reports said no passengers were seriously hurt.

The first two cars of the passenger were derailed.

First reports gave the following account:

The Texas special was heading south when a freight engine on a siding pulled onto the main track in front of the passenger train.

The engine of the passenger train and one passenger car were overturned and four other cars jumped the track. The engineer and fireman were crushed to death and acetylene torches are being used to extricate them.

KENNELLY NEXT CHICAGO CHIEF

Democratic Candidate Elected Mayor as G.O.P. Wins Council Seats.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 2—Republican hopes of smashing the Democrats' 16-year-old "big city" political dynasty lay shattered today under a tide of Democratic votes that swept Martin H. Kennelly into office as Chicago's new mayor.

In the nation's first major 1947 test of political trends, the Democrats recovered from a stunning setback suffered in last November's congressional elections to score their biggest victory in a mayoral contest in 12 years.

Both sides waged all out campaigns to win with control of the city hall most likely to have an important bearing on how Illinois' 28 electoral votes go in the 1948 presidential contest.

Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, termed the contest an "important preliminary engagement" to next year's presidential battle.

Complete returns showed Kennelly's majority was 273,354 votes over Russell W. Root, his Republican opponent.

Returns gave Kennelly 919,593 to 646,239 for Root.

The Republicans, who won 14 of the 17 Cook (Chicago) county offices last November, scored their only gains in the Democratic dominated city council.

By winning 12 of the 19 runoff aldermanic contests, the Republicans assured themselves of 18 of the 50 seats in the new city council, their largest representation since 1931, when they had 17.

Kennelly, 50-year-old silver-haired business man in his first bid for elective office, described himself as an independent Democrat who had "not promised anybody anything" and was under no obligation to any man or group of men."

He was supported by retiring Mayor Edward J. Kelly and his powerful Democratic organization.

Reece Sees No Special Significance in Election

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2—Carroll Reece, Republican national committee chairman, said today he saw "no special significance" in the Democratic triumph in Chicago's mayoralty election.

Reece, who previously had termed the election an "important preliminary engagement" to next year's presidential campaign, said the Democratic victory margin was "pretty well in line with the usual Democratic majorities in Chicago."

VIEW COMES AFTER PARLEY

Beirne Says Monday Walkout Will Occur as Scheduled.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2—Joseph A. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, said today that "the way things look now" a nation-wide telephone strike will begin as scheduled next Monday.

Beirne gave that word to reporters after a 2½ hour conference on company - union negotiations with Edgar L. Warren, head of the U. S. conciliation service, and John W. Gibson, assistant secretary of labor.

"There is no change in the picture whatsoever," Beirne said. "The companies have offered nothing whatever. If there is no change there will be a strike."

The strike deadline is 6 a. m. Monday, according to the various time zones. Beirne's NFTW represents 287,000 employes of 30 NFTW affiliates from coast to coast.

A short time before Beirne spoke, the house labor committee approved legislation designed to give the government power to head off or stop the strike.

Chairman Hartley (R-NJ) told reporters he would ask immediately for clearance to get the to the house floor for action. But he conceded there is no chance of enactment before the strike deadline set for the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Hartley added that the legislation "is not merely designed to beat the deadline. It will be available at any time during the proceedings. It could be used even after the strike takes place."

Action Up To President

The measures provides that when the President finds that a labor dispute has resulted in or threatens substantial curtailment of public utility, transportation, or communication services, he shall direct the attorney general to obtain a court order to prevent a strike.

Just prior to the labor committee's action, the NFTW had asked for a congressional investigation of what it called "the monopolistic labor policy of the bell system."

Several changes were made in the strike-injunction legislation before committee approved it. Fourteen Republicans and two Democrats voted for the bill and three Democrats against it. Six committee members were absent.

Won't Cover Coal

Hartley said the bill is not broad enough to cover a coal strike. Nor could it cover a railway strike because the committee specified it would not apply to any person or dispute subject to the railway labor act.

To meet a Democratic objection, the committee also wrote in a section providing that the attorney general can ask a court to end an injunction whenever disputing parties reach an agreement.

The congressional probe of the Bell system was proposed by J. A. Beirne, president of the NFTW, in letters to house Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana, and Senate G.O.P. Leader White of Maine.

"Following Pattern"

Beirne told Halleck and White that the Bell Telephone system has been following a "pattern" in negotiations with the union. He said there is evidence that the telephone industry is insisting on local bargaining but is "actually bargaining nationally."

A telephone tie-up is scheduled for next Monday. Some house leaders say it won't come off with congress in a mood to pass tough labor legislation.

Chances for passage of a bill to intercept the communications strike before the deadline are slender.

OHIO SLAYER AWAITS EXECUTION TONIGHT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 2—Apparently unmoved, Russell Eugene Koons, 23-year-old Springfield navy veteran, sat quietly in his Ohio penitentiary death row cell today, awaiting the summons to die in the electric chair tonight.

Koons was convicted of the hatchet slaying of his mother.

With his life now spanned in hours, Koons played solitaire, read and received visits from the prison's Protestant chaplain, Rev. K. E. Wall.

Guards, who watched every movement of the Springfield man as the hour for execution drew nearer, said they detected no evidence of a break in Koons' composure.

Woman Convicted Of Election Fraud Freed by Herbert

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 2—Gov Thomas J. Herbert today ordered the release of Mrs. Susan Derighter of Cleveland, who is serving a one to five-year sentence in the women's reformatory on a vote fraud conviction. She will be freed Good Friday, April 4.

The sentence of Mrs. Derighter, wife of John T. Derighter, a former member of the Ohio house of representatives, was commuted to end immediately.

She was convicted in 1944 on charges of false registration and illegal voting and entered the reformatory June 13, 1946. She would have been eligible for parole after serving one year less 60 days for good behavior.

"LOVELY THING TO DO," SAYS PRISON HEAD

By The Associated Press

MARYSVILLE, O., April 2—"That certainly was a lovely thing for the governor to do," Mrs. Marguerite Reilley, superintendent of the women's reformatory, declared today when informed of the release ordered for Mrs. Susan Derighter.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, a Republican, commuted the sentence of Mrs. Derighter, a former Democratic leader in Cleveland, and she will be freed from prison on Good Friday.

Mrs. Derighter is serving a one-to-five-year term on a vote fraud conviction.

Superintendent Reilley described her as "a good wife and mother and a decent woman who has suffered terribly."

Asked what was Mrs. Derighter's reaction to the news that she would be released, Mrs. Reilly replied:

"She just cried."

Mrs. Derighter, mother of three children, has spent most of her time typing records in the reformatory hospital since she entered the institution June 13, 1946. She is 44 years old.

Ohio Cave Dweller Arrested As Army Deserter by FBI

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 2 — A bearded, 25-year-old man who said he had been living in a cave for four years was arrested in Uhrichsville, O., early today on a charge of deserting from the army, the FBI announced.

E. C. Richardson, agent in charge of the Cleveland office, identified the man as John P. Lehigh and said he deserted July, 1943, at Fort Shelby, Miss.

He was arrested at the home of a relative near the cave, Richardson said, and will be turned over to army authorities at Fort Hayes.

The agent said the man offered no resistance and told police he had earned some money by repairing automobiles. He was wearing civilian clothes at the time of arrest.

Richardson said Lehigh was inducted in May, 1943, after he was arrested for failure to register in the draft and was given the opportunity of enlisting.

OATS SOWING SEASON NEARING IN COUNTY

Approximately 15,000 Acres To Be Planted.

Granted favorable weather, Marion county farmers within the next few days will begin planting an estimated 15,000 acres of oats—one of the county's major crops and the first to come under the farmers' spring planting program.

Oats should be sown as soon as fields are sufficiently dry, and a majority of the county's oats acreage will be planted within the next 10 days, providing fair weather continues, Marion County Agricultural Agent Arthur H. Smith said today.

Farm leaders believe oats production in Marion county will take on a new importance this year, due to the high costs of all livestock feeds. A large percentage of the crop is fed on the farms on which it is raised and with high prices on livestock much of the grain will go back into livestock and poultry. The average oats yield for the county is about 50 bushels to the acre.

Mr. Smith recommends all farmers treat their seed oats this year for a new type of disease which has become prevalent in the last few years. The disease, known as Victoria Blight, attacks the roots and stems of the plants and cuts yield considerably.

Seed oats should be given an organic mercury treatment, Mr. Smith said, as a precaution against the blight. The compound, known as Ceresan, should be mixed with the seed before it is sown. The mixing process may be done either on the farm or at local elevators, many of which have seed treating machinery, the county agent pointed out.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

In the Christ of the Cross we glory as our Saviour.

* * *

OVER and over we read that because of Gods love, He gave. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

And Paul wrote: Christ "who loved me and gave Himself for me."

We cannot evaluate the great gift of God to this world when Jesus came. It is beyond human comprehension. We think of great gifts like the gift of the new United Nations site in New York City by the Rockefeller interests.

But God's gift to this world in Christ is far greater; greater because of its worldwide benefit—all men may be saved; greater because of its power—the vilest sinner may be saved; greater because of its eternal impact—man can be redeemed through all eternity.

All this comes within reach of sinful man through the sacrifice of Jesus on the Cross. The thinking Christian, seeing the cost and its results, will glory in the Christ of the Cross.

$75,000 DAMAGES ASKED FOR RAIL INJURIES HERE

Flagman Files Suit in Chicago Superior Court.

Suit has been filed in the superior court in Chicago by Forrest R. Cassel against the Pennsylvania railroad company for $75,000 damages for injuries he says he suffered while working for the road in Marion. It was on Aug. 21 last year that he was working as a road flagman on a freight train then in Marion. He says he was standing on the rear steps of the rear car prepared to relay signals to the head of the train. Suddenly the train made an unexpected and violent stop between the Prospect Pike and Bellefontaine avenue. He was thrown so hard against the railing of the caboose he received serious and permanent injuries. He charges the railroad was guilty of carelessness in not warning him of the coming stop so he could protect himself from injury. The suit is filed under the federal employers' liability act.

Size of Your Rent at Stake In Current Congressional Action

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 2—The size of your rent is at stake in what congress is doing right now.

Here is the story, but go back a second to bring it up to date.

James Marlow

Congress voted rent controls early in the war. It went into effect in June, 1942.

Each succeeding year congress voted to continue the control another year. It did that last year.

The present rent control law expires June 30 unless congress votes to continue it.

Real estate and home-building people have been urging congress to throw rent control out entirely.

Not President Truman. Yesterday he asked congress to continue it another year after June 30.

He didn't say so in so many words, but he made it clear he thinks housing still is so scarce that an end to control will shoot rents up.

Five Courses Open

But congress is working on what to do about continuing the controls. It can do one of several things:

1. End controls.
2. Continue them as they are.
3. Allow general increases for landlords everywhere.
4. Pass a law too weak to mean anything.
5. Continue controls a few months or a full year.

Congress seems likely to continue controls a while, anyway. But in what form? No one can say.

The work on rent control is being done by two congressional committees: the house and senate banking committees.

Their job is to work out rent control bills upon which the full house and senate can vote.

Senate Committee Acts

The senate committee has completed its job. It has okayed a bill to do this:

1. Continue controls another year after June 30.
2. Let citizen groups in abuot 650 areas decide where, and if, rents should be increased or controls ended in their areas.

The senate bill will lie around now till the full senate gets a chance to vote for it as is or change it.

It's a little different in the house committee.

That committee, behind closed doors yesterday, okayed a bill to boost all rents 10 per cent.

Would Wipe Out Control

It would also wipe out almost every present government control on building materials and new buildings.

But—this isn't final with the house committee. It was to work again today and maybe, change the bill.

When the house committee finally approves a bill—it was expected to do so today—that bill will go to the full house for a vote.

The house, like the senate, will vote for, or change, the bill its committee sends up.

If house and senate vote for different bills, both houses will have to appoint a special committee to work out a bill which both can approve.

So the size of your rent for the next year still is up in the air. But you'll soon learn the answer.

Thank God For Muscle-Rub!

WRITES MR. ROBERT JORDAN, COLON, MICH.

Advises every sufferer from Rheumatic—Arthritic—Sciatic—Neuritic Pains to try Muscle-Rub.

Here's the true story of a man who took treatments, used all kind of remedies for his sciatic, neuritic pains without being helped in the slightest degree. Mr. Robert Jordan of Colon, Mich., suffered agony from pains in his hip—knee—calf of legs. The pain at times was so bad that he couldn't sit down. He tried several different treatments, many different medicines, all of which did him no good. He couldn't work. Life was misery for him.

Then one day he saw an advertisement of Muscle-Rub—the doctor's prescription—and in desperation bought a bottle. He used it as directed and in 3 days the pains were relieved and Mr. Jordan was back on the job.

No wonder he advises every rheumatic sufferer to try Muscle-Rub for fast pain relief. Get a bottle today at Henney & Cooper and All Drug Stores.

Remember, Muscle-Rub is sold on this money back guarantee. If only half a bottle doesn't bring relief your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Duck Flew Through Floor One Stormy Night

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

OCRACOKE, N. C., April 2—"Big Ike" O'Neal can still hear the sea, but it doesn't say anything to him anymore.

"Ain't done a stroke of work for eleven years now," said "Big Ike," sitting in a rocker in the weathered frame house where he lives now, a sailor home from the waves.

He still tells his hours by a fine old cathedral clock he paid $2.50 for 59 years ago. Almost 82, "Big Ike" is one of the few veterans of the era of sail left on this small island off the North Carolina coast, part of the "outer banks" which seamen know as the graveyard of the Atlantic.

Hal Boyle

Time has chipped away some of "Big Ike's" 240 pounds but hasn't bent his six foot-three frame. Nor has it slowed his fondness for "yearning" about the days that are gone, when the Hatteras schoals seized rich ships and turned them into sea skeletons.

Using Other's Teeth

"I'm glad to see you—or anybody else for that matter" said "Big Ike" the night I called on him. "I can't talk so well, because I'm using somebody else's teeth. I bought 'em all right. But they ain't really my own teeth. That's why I say I'm using somebody else's teeth."

And "Big Ike's" laugh set the window curtains waving on the other side of the room. O'Neal has been a sailor between the coast and the West Indies, a fisherman, a coast guardsman, a game warden and carried the U. S. mail.

"I got the measles on my first trip at sea as a fourteen year-old boy." He said, "and cured myself by drinking a keg of water. Only medicine we had an board. In the West Indies then we paid two cents for a drink of rum. The wooden cups held half a pint. Some of our boys never came back alive."

Two Events Stand Out

Two events that stand out in his crowded memory are the first time he ever ate white flour bread and the night the duck flew in through his cottage floor.

"I was eleven years old and never tasted anything but corn meal," he said. "My brother and a fellow bought a barrel of flour in New York paid ten dollars for it. We spread a sheet out on the floor, rolled the barrel on it and divided the barrel by sawing it in half. The flour was packed so tight it didn't even crumble or spill.

"You know I didn't sleep at all that night, wondering what flour bread would taste like in the morning."

It was in "the big storm of 18 and 99" that "Big Ike" had his locally famous encounter with the mysterious duck.

Longest Storm

"Longest storm we ever had—lasted from Tuesday afternoon to Friday night" he said. "Had nothing but my oilskins on, and there were three or four families in the house—children crying, women screaming, men praying, and water rising outside.

"I was afraid the house would float right off its blocks. I thought if I opened a hole in the kitchen it would equalize the pressure, and help hold the house down.

"I took my ax, hit it a lick. I pulled up a plank, the water slopped in and a big white duck flew up and didn't stop until he hit the ceiling. He was quacking as loud as God would let him.

"I was more than skeered. I caught the duck and put him in a box, but I didn't have any appetite for him then. Didn't cook him until the storm was over."

When Baby Eats Poorly

Many parents think that you "spoil" a child by allowing him to do what he wants. The opposite is much more likely to be true, especially in the realm of food. Many a youngster begins his childhood with a poor appetite and a cross disposition only because an over-anxious mother has tried all during his babyhood to force him to eat what he does not want and often does not need.

Poor eating in a baby often starts when he is given his first solid food. The taste of the food, its consistency and feeding from a spoon are all strange. However, after two or three days most babies will take a cereal feeding and within a week or two accept it willingly, but there are some who, from the very first, seem to dislike cereal, and this dislike seems to grow on them. Any effort that the mother may make to force the baby to take the cereal only makes him more obstinate.

To prevent difficulty with the first solid foods the mother should remember that it may require several days and even several weeks for the baby to get familiar with the new food. There is no hurry. The only important thing is to make sure that the baby will eventually like the cereal. Just a taste each day is enough until he becomes eager for it.

Because the baby so often rebels against taking the cereal it may be advisable to start with some other solid foods such as apple sauce or mashed banana. The infant is much more likely to enjoy these foods and later take cereal willingly. On the other hand, if he is started with cereal and dislikes it, he may rebel against fruits and every other food.

When the baby is from six to nine months old he usually is hungry at mealtimes and eats avidly of whatever is offered him. However, between twelve and fifteen months of age children frequently lose this good appetite.

At this time, the foods most commonly refused or eaten poorly are vegetables, cereals and milk. Of course, the mother realizes that the child needs these foods and she is apt to urge or try to force the baby to take them but the infant only becomes more obstinate.

The mother should bear in mind that the infant's appetite is likely to fall off from time to time. If he turns against certain foods, offer him others. If he does not want any vegetables, give him fruit twice a day. The baby may temporarily cut down his milk intake. If this happens, extra milk can be given in milk puddings or in cereals made with milk. Dry cereals may be offered in place of cooked ones. The best rule to adopt is to let the baby's appetite take care of itself, and to allow his appetite to determine the amount of food that he wants. Above all, avoid urging and force.

I have outlined some instructions regarding infants more than nine months of age who refuse to eat which I shall be glad to send to all those who desire them if they will send a self-addressed stamped envelope. Names will not be used.

Ford
The Ford Motor Company has just announced that the Ford three-window, six-cylinder business coupe is back in production at a price twenty dollars below that which prevailed when this model was temporarily discontinued last fall.
This reduction, plus those announced last January 15th, makes the Ford business coupe and the two-door sedan the lowest priced cars in their field.
We Ford Dealers are proud to be part of the organization that pioneered and is continuing such a clear, realistic and progressive policy.
We consider this newest Ford price reduction still further proof that the Ford Motor Company leads in offering the American Public the most value at the lowest possible price.
And we feel certain that it will play a definite part in speeding the return of sound and sensible prices, and a secure future for consumer, seller and producer alike.

Trial Set for Thursday

Scheduled for jury trial Thursday is the $22,081.84 judgment suit of Alfred E. Shultz against Fred L. Hinamon, the suit follows an accident June 16, 1945, when the plaintiff was employed by a construction firm on a project at Huber Mfg. Co. grounds. The plaintiff charges in an amended petition that a telephone wire caught on the bed of a dump truck operated by the defendant, the wire striking him and dragging him to the ground. He asks for compensation for what he claims were injuries and damages received. Moore and Myers are attorneys for the plaintiff and Donithen, Michel and Davis attorneys for the defendant.

THREE FINED IN CRESTLINE

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, April 2—Three Crestline laborers, William Lee, Talmadge Stevens and Jess Alford, were fined $100 and costs by Mayor A. P. Sonner today after pleading guilty to intoxication charges. Police said the three men broke into apartments in the Jenner block, Monday night, broke furniture, windows and doors. The mayor suspended $95 of the fine of each after the men agreed to pay for the damage.

PROSPECT SCHOOL GROUP ARE STATE OFFICE GUESTS

Visit Legislature, Greeted by Lt. Governor in Senate.

Prospect High school seniors augmented their classroom social problems course yesterday by touring state government agencies in Columbus and watching the state legislature in action, The Associated Press reported.

The group was welcomed in the senate by Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert. Accompanying the students was Virgil J. Briegel, social problems teacher and principal of Prospect school, who has arranged similar trips each year for the senior class.

The 15 students left Prospect by automobile Tuesday morning and returned in the evening. They also toured the Columbus State School. At the state treasury they were shown a $1,000,000 U. S. government bond.

Complaint Filed Against Loud Record Player

Frank Stansberry, 23, of 135 Blaine avenue proprietor of Sparkie's Restaurant at 492 West Center street appeared in municipal court this morning to answer charges that the music box in the restaurant had been bothering tenants living in the upstairs rooms of the building. Charges were brought against him by Mrs. Laura Irey.

He told the court that customers had been turning the machine up but that he would see to it that this did not happen again. He will draw no penalty unless another complaint is received, court officials said.

2 PEDESTRIANS INVOLVED IN TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Neither Is Injured, Police Report Shows.

Two auto-pedestrian accidents, one yesterday morning and the other this morning, have been reported to police. In each case the person hit said they were unhurt, according to the reports given by the drivers.

Mrs. Clara Hecker of 390 Blaine avenue walked into the side of an auto driven by Earl O. Coldwell, 26, of 256 West Columbia street at 8:10 a. m. yesterday. The accident happened at the intersection of Main and Center streets.

Melvin A. Bolinger, 23, of 302 Adams street, a driver for Baldauf and Schlientz, Inc., said his truck hit a young girl on Greenwood street at the Farming street intersection at about 8:55 a. m. today. He said the girl started across Greenwood street unexpectedly and he was not able to stop in time to avoid hitting her. She was with her mother who said she was unhurt and declined to give her name.

Another accident reported to police happened at the intersection of Senate and Silver streets at 4:50 p. m. yesterday. A taxi driven by John H. Hawthorne 21, of 724 North Main street, brushed a parked pick-up truck.

DETROIT MAN DIES WHILE VISITING HERE

Walter Whiteside Stricken at Home of Wife's Parents.

Walter Whiteside, 56, of 29581 Greenland avenue, Detroit, Mich., died at 5:20 p. m. Tuesday following a heart attack at the home of Mrs. Whiteside's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Shaffer of 371 Mary street. Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside had been vacationing in Florida and had stopped here for a few days on their return. The inhalator from the Central Fire Station was called and was operated from 10 to 12 minutes by John Ganoe and Carl Cowell, but Mr. Whiteside was then pronounced dead by the attending physician. He had been ill 11 hours.

Born Sept. 22, 1890 in Marshall, N. C., he was a son of Jefferson Davis Whiteside and Anna Chandler Whiteside.

He was employed as a superintendent of steamfitters with a construction company in Detroit, and had resided in Detroit 17 years. He was a member of a Masonic lodge, Steamfitters Union No. 636, and the Mount Creek Baptist church at Rutherfordton, N. C.

Surviving with his wife are one brother and three sisters, J. Bryan Whiteside, Mrs. Charles O. Taylor and Miss Mamie Whiteside, all of Rutherfordton, N. C., and Mrs. Ralph Beason of Cliffside, N. C.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10:30 a. m. Saturday in the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist church. Burial will be in Forest Glen Memorial Park. Friends may call at the funeral home after 10 a. m. Thursday and until service time.

FORM COMPANY HERE TO MAKE FERTILIZER

Ross McGinnis and Son Incorporate Concern.

A company which will manufacture concentrated plant food is being organized in Marion under the name of the Marion Chemical Co.

Articles of incorporation were issued to the company today by the secretary of state, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus.

Incorporators are Ross McGinnis, his son, Jay H. McGinnis and Walter D. Moore. Attorneys for the transaction were Moore and Myers of Marion. Capital stock was listed at $25,000.

The company plans to manufacture liquid and solid plant food products. It now is negotiating for a building location in the city. No officers have yet been elected.

Ross McGinnis was deputy sheriff of Marion county from 1941 to 1945 and was later employed by the state highway department.

A Note of Caution

NOW THAT Americans have a belated awareness of Communists in their midst, they must be cautious lest they see a Communist on every street corner and two in the middle of the block.

A man carrying a copy of "Das Kapital" is not necessarily a Communist. When they go out among the "working classes," Communist organizers reputedly wear caps and turtleneck sweaters, but the fact that a man is wearing them does not make him a Communist. If a man is named Vasily and uses a samovar for brewing tea, he may not be a Communist. If he expresses political views at odds with yours, that does not necessarily make him a Communist.

In fact, it is not for the ordinary citizen to make open denunciations of those they believe are Communists. The federal bureau of investigation has done an excellent job of keeping subversive elements under surveillance with a minimum of uproar and no danger to civil liberties. Any information regarding possible Communists on public payrolls or illegal Communist activities should be turned over to it for expert and confidential investigation.

Perpetual Danger

THE INQUIRY into newspapers, radio, motion pictures, magazines and books financed by Time Inc. and Encyclopedia Britannica has concluded the freedom of these agencies of communication is in danger from themselves. We wish the inquiries—13 of them headed by University of Chicago's Hutchins—had explained that this is nothing new.

Danger is the environment of all freedom. It becomes in that respect a synonym for uncertainty: can men bear out the claim they make to dignity when they assume the right to be free? The decision is never final. But as long as it remains pending, freedom continues.

There may have been a time when the danger to freedom, both internal and external, was less than it is now; we doubt it. There may come a time when danger will cease; we doubt that. To talk of freedom without danger is as anomalous as to talk of love without heartache.

The Hutchins committee lumps newspapers, radio, motion pictures, magazines and books into a single classification—the press. This suggests some interesting possibilities, also some interesting questions. But for the time being it suggests chiefly that the committee has given toilers in the vineyards of each medium a chance to pick out the faults of the other fellow. Criticism, to be valid, needs to be direct. Newspapermen, for instance, are not prepared to defend associate features, Steinbeck's bankrupt realism, or singing commercials on the radio.

Who Says So?

HERBERT HOOVER'S thesis about restoring Europe by restoring Germany first isn't holding up well under the crossfire of American doubt. Mr. Hoover's countrymen wonder who says Germany should be restored, besides their former president.

Three things about his thesis raise more doubt than they settle.

One is the assumption that Germany could be restored by outside help in a manner acceptable to the Germans, who might prove just as eager to bite the hand that tried to restore them as they were after World War I.

Two is the assumption that Germany, if restored and re-established as a buffer state between Russia and the Anglo-American bloc would be any easier to handle than it was from 1918 to 1939.

Three is the assumption that Europe as a whole wants Germany restored. In Europe, Germany is not a major factor in a theory about economics, but a major factor in a set of circumstances which have plagued millions of Europeans for the last three quarters of a century. Do the French, for instance, want Germany restored?

It would be a horrible thing if Germany floundered miserably in the consequences of its national arrogance indefinitely. It would be a still more horrible thing if Germany were restored as a factor in power politics and became the instigator of World War III.

Ohio Cities' Parking Headache

THE PROPOSAL before the general assembly to give Ohio cities the authority they need to ease their parking headache is one more request in a growing list reflecting a serious fault in government. Cities should not be so closely bound by remote authority that they can't use their own initiative to help themselves.

Parking is a problem common to all built-up areas. Every city is trying to do something about it. Cities that fail to do something about it are going to be in hot water.

In the meantime, many Ohio cities want to take prompt action, including acquisition of off-street parking space. There can be no reasonable grounds for opposing the bill to let Ohio cities help themselves in the parking dilemma.

News Behind the News

Communists Play Games at G.O.P. Expense.

WASHINGTON, April 2 — The New York Herald Tribune, press citadel of the Republican party (Stassen branch), has published a full pace advertisement (March 31).

Just a few days before, the state department had discovered sabotage of its program to Russia. An antenna in the Munich relay station had been reversed so that news, views and songs of this government program—our propaganda if you wish to call it that—were wasted on Latin American ears which could not translate it. The sly Communists no doubt considered it ironically funny to direct our Russian program to a hemisphere the Communists consider fascistic.

The contrast of these two events is a contrast of two civilizations now vying for control of the world. A simpler, clearer example of the crisis of our age cannot be imagined. The mildest, friendly propaganda of the United States government to the Russian people was denied penetration of the Red iron curtain, while the far more valuable space of a full page in our leading metropolitan press was given Communists. And these U. S. Communists had been called that very week the dangerous fifth column of this nation by the head of our bureau of federal investigation, J. Edgar Hoover. This is an exhibition of our weakness in both tactics and intelligence such as has caused the philosophers to predict Communism will certainly defeat us in the end (Santayana for one.)

Innocuous Propaganda

The U. S. government radio program dealt accurately with current news, conditions, beauties and accomplishments within the United States and our songs, thus being more of a normal promotional than a political revolutionary nature. As propaganda goes, it was almost innocuous. But the advertisement of the Communist party was a statement by the party secretary which he said was denied presentation to the house un-American activities committee because the secretary would not even tell his right name. The statement contained the usual inane and timeworn rantings of the Communists, including attacks on J. Edgar Hoover, a defense of Marxism and other material headed: "What the house un-American committee did not hear," meaning of course the material was not sound enough to get into the record of a committee of congress which will take nearly anything. It was sheer Communist propaganda, with strictly political intent.

The Herald Tribune did not need the money for the ad, even on a Monday morning. It's Republican favorite, ex-Gov. Harold Stassen, is now traveling in Moscow investigating things. Presumably it may have desired simultaneously to exhibit the great freedom of attitude toward Russian propaganda. Possibly also it may have been impressed by two boxes at the bottom of the ad. One reading: "Wire protest to President Truman, Representative Rankin and your own congressman" and the other saying: "Communist party, U.S.A. I am enclosing $—— as my contribution toward the cost of this advertisement," etc.

Communists Intention

The intention of Communism is to divide and conquer an civilization more powerful than its own. If U. S. Communists can get a Republican citadel to display their wares, and carry their attack upon Democrats, their party would be imprudent not to venture such an attack (especially if it can get the money back in contributions from the unwary Republican readers of the Herald Tribune.) This is classic Communist irony. Compatible with and comparable to the sabotage of the Munich relay station. The incidents are in every way similar in purpose, the only difference being that in one case the Communists had to sabotage a government radio to gain their will, while in the other they sought to collect money from Republicans to attack the head of the very same government—and the Republican let them do it!

The lesson to be drawn from the experience is one for the Republican press leadership, specifically the Herald Tribune element. It would not allow a false patent medicine to obtain one of its full pages for advertising. Yet it weakly and rather stupidly grants its page to a false patent medicine of politics, a much more serious blunder because that political medicine is designed even to destroy an entire world civilization.

Stalin Tests Bidault

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON, April 2—After the need for a clearer mutual understanding with Britain, the problem of France is the next on the grim list which constitutes the agenda of American foreign policy. Anglo-American relations were materially damaged by a feckless tendency to take the British for granted, which has now been brusquely corrected by the Greek crisis. Franco-American relations are still being seriously endangered by an alarmist tendency to despair of the French future. This view is understood to have been strongly implanted at the White House by the half-forgotten but still animate Admiral Leahy. It may be summed up in the catch phrase, that the French Communists can "take over the government by telephone."

Undoubtedly the intelligence reports from France are extremely disturbing, since the French Communists retain control of the labor unions and other essential levers of command in the French economy. If it is true that they can take over the government by telephone, however, why are the French Communists so passive? Why particularly do their masters in the Kremlin permit such happenings as the recent conference between Generalissimo Stalin and French Foreign Minister Bidault?

Interesting Contrast

There is an interesting contrast here. America's representative at Moscow, George C. Marshall, has not yet been received by Stalin. If received, he means to tell the Soviet leader some home truths, but he will not seek the interview according to present indications. Britain's representative, Ernest Bevin, has been received, but he had to ask for the conference.

France's representative, Bidault, had an hour and a half's talk at the Kremlin with Stalin almost immediately upon arrival. The French ambassador to Moscow General Catroux, had requested a meeting with the generalissimo a month previously. Upon reaching Moscow, Bidault left cards on Stalin. The invitation to the kremlin followed promptly.

This was, almost certainly, because the kremlin hoped for French support throughout the Moscow conference. At the previous foreign ministers' meeting in New York, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov indicated as much to M. Couve de Murville, then acting for Bidault. Molotov in fact proposed a crude deal, by which the French would have supported the Soviet reparations claims and the Soviets would have recognized the French claim to the Saar.

The same desire for a Franco-Soviet deal was manifest in the talk between Stalin and Bidault. This time, the main topic was the character of the German government. More and more, the Soviets have emphasized their demand for a centralized organization of Germany. The reason is simple. A strong German central government under four-power control would give the Soviets both a power of veto on any undesired development in western Germany, and a power to help the German Communists to infiltrate westward.

No Way To Pay

The French, on the other hand, are the most extreme advocates of German decentralization, and the French Communist party is strongly committed to the policy. Bidault refused to alter the French position in any respect.

On the question of the Ruhr, Stalin and Bidault agreed, since both France and Russia want an international control there. On the question of the Saar, Stalin naturally refused to make concessions.

And on reparations, Bidault indicated he was perfectly willing to see Germany pay through the nose, but refused to approve the rise in the German industrial level without which Germany cannot pay anything. On balance, the effort to form a Franco-Soviet front at Moscow was a failure.

This significant episode merely confirms the more public evidence of the recent government crisis in Paris. Here the question at issue was whether Premier Ramadier would yield to the demands of the Communist Viet Nam government in Indo-China. The hotheads in the French Communist executive committee wished to support their Viet Nam brothers. But after a tense period, the Communist deputies abstained from voting against the government, and the Communist ministers led by Vice-Premier Thorez actually voted with Ramadier. This, surely, was strange behavior for a party capable of taking the government over by telephone.

Business "Dip" Outlook

By STERLING GREEN

WASHINGTON—More and more government economists now believe that the 1947 price dip—if one comes — won't be deep enough to merit the name "recession."

Opinion still is well divided. But this is becoming a typical forecast by some experts who last fall were predicting a short-lived but full-fledged business slump:

A "price adjustment" of around 10 per cent at wholesale, certainly not much more; an increase of around 2,000,000 in unemployment; a start after midyear and an end within one year.

Such a modest decline, in the view of most federal economists, would not be a recession. The difference, they say, is not simply the use of a milder word to describe a harsh fact, because there are distinct shades of meaning for "dip," "recession," and "depression."

Official Opinions Differ

Therefore there were actual differences of opinion among officials when President Truman in January spoke of "minor detours and bumps" ahead; when his Council of Economic Advisers warned of a possible "dip" this year; when Federal Reserve Board men spoke of a "recession" and the Commerce Department of a "business adjustment." Nobody, however, has forecast a "depression."

The Commerce Department last fall was in the "recession" camp, though it never made such a prediction officially. The fact that it now speaks of an "adjustment" betokens a definite change in the economic outlook.

A "dip" is a mild adjustment of price levels.

Some 'Recession' Problems

These would be the earmarks of a genuine recession, as some government officials identify them:

First, a drop in the buying power of individuals and a curtailment of their demand for goods.

Second, a "measurable" increase in unemployment. This might mean 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 more people workless. Only about 2,500,000 now are out of work and seeking it.

Third, a drop in prices sufficient to lower the general price level substantially—say 15 to 20 per cent.

Fourth, a duration of one to two years.

That was roughly the pattern of 1938. Prices dropped 14 per cent from the 1937 high to the 1939 low. Unemployment increased by 3,750,000.

Time Factor Cited

The sag of 1921 was much sharper, but it was nevertheless a recession. It wasn't sharp enough or long enough to be a "depression." A depression implies heavy unemployment and a duration of several years.

There could be a recession in the middle of a depression. For instance, the country was just emerging from the depression of the 1930s when it ran into the sag of 1938.

But even if a full-scale recession came along this year, it would have much lighter impact, because the economy is moving on a much higher level generally. Only a totally unexpected cataclysm could create an army of jobless like that of 1938. Even if it happened, total employment still would be much higher because the labor force expanded so greatly during the war.

The business "adjustment" of which the Commerce Department now speaks is much milder. It means that the most inflationary prices will come down into line with the average of prices, but at a level which still will leave business a good profit—even in food, which is the commodity farthest out of line and probably will suffer the biggest drop when supplies improve.

Inventories Are Watched

It also means that wholesalers, assembly plants and stores will stop piling up stocks faster than they sell or use them. Such inventories accumulation has been hitting an unprecedented clip for months. When it ends, department experts expect about 5 per cent of the total volume of orders to factories will stop. Production, and therefore employment, will reflect the drop.

Consumers, also, may be expected to shift their demand from "soft" goods—shoes, clothing and the like—to hard goods, thereby pulling one drop from soft goods prices. The reason this shift has not already been staged is because automobiles, sewing machines, cabinet radios and other wanted items have been much slower arriving in quantity than was expected.

Last fall most federal economists thought all those movements would smack into the economy at once. Prices and business activity, they felt, would rise to a sharp peak, then sag suddenly.

That is approximately what happened in 1938. Optimistic businessmen were piling up inventories at rising prices and expected to sell at still higher prices. Then came two blows at the public buying power: The soldiers' bonus suddenly was all spent, and simultaneously the government slashed its own depression outlays.

Consumer demand fell off. The overbuilt inventories had to be sacrificed. A good many firms took big losses or failed. Factory production lagged and workers were laid off.

Change in Three Months

That was a recession. Three months ago many analysts thought we were walking the same path, and some still do.

But others have changed their minds. They say that the whole movement has been slower than expected, that inventory accumulation will be trimmed voluntarily before the consumer shifts his buying habits, so that the impact of those events will not coincide; that consumer income is holding up better than expected; that buying power has been conserved because the goods weren't available to buy.

So, instead of the high-peak-and-downskid pattern which results in depression, they foresee a more gradual movement from a very high plateau to a slightly lower one — an "adjustment" in reality, and not a recession.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, April 2, 1937.

President Roosevelt's intention of appointing Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, New York and Washington society woman, minister to Norway, was announced in a dispatch from Washington.

Funeral arrangements were being made for Joseph Wellwood, 68, of Mt. Victory, widely known in central Ohio as a horse trainer and harness race driver, whose death occurred the preceding night in a Kenton hospital.

Pearl Edson Converse, 45, of North Main street, Pennsylvania railroad telegrapher, was fatally injured at Harvey station north of Marion when he apparently was struck by a railroad tie that protuded or fell from a passing freight car.

The eighth anniversary of the organization of Whitney Lodge No. 846, Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was celebrated with a family dinner at the Legion Dugout. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Lenna Moore, Mrs. Harriet Brady and Mrs. Hazel Gilbert.

The music department at Thomas A. Edison Junior High school presented an assembly program under the direction of L. G. Jones, public school music supervisor. Miss Eleanor Barnard directed the program which included selections by the Girls' Glee club, boys' choir, a mixed quartet and a girls' trio. The quartet included Gertrude Payne, Dorothea Sheets, John Williams and Clendon Parr. In the trio were Clarice Marshall, Delores Iams and Mary Ann Russell.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, April 2, 1927.

Charles Schmidt, chairman of the fire and waterworks committee of city council, announced that the 15-year-old motor truck at fire station No. 2 would soon be replaced by a new and modern truck.

City workmen under William Honaker, street foreman, finished grading approximately half of Marion's 86 miles of unpaved streets.

Miss Thelma Spicer and Harold Wornstaff, both of Marion, were united in marriage by Rev. W. H. Howard at the First United Brethren parsonage on South Prospect street.

Farewell to an Old Ship

"THE MAYFLOWER, presidential yacht to ... presidents, may have to be broken up ... result of a fire."—News item.

I
What memories the name inspires!
What thoughts of days of yore
When "Teddy" strode your spotless decks
Fresh from the Spanish war!
When you were Sunday picture stuff,
And, "Big Stick" in his hand,
T.R. the king of Riders Rough
Held forth to beat the band!

II
"De-light-ed" then rang from your decks
As "Teddy" had his fun
With all the great of yesterday
And smacked 'em one by one;
You heard him "tell the Kaiser off"
And shake a fist or two
When any crisis big or small
Came hoving into view.

III
Next "Big Bill" Taft took over when
To cruise became his lot;
Bill tried to like it on the waves
(But liked it more when not);
What peaceful days you knew with him—
No wars, no bricks, no rocks,
With cruises calm and quiet like—
And not too far from docks!

IV
Then Princeton's Woodrow Wilson came—
A yachting cap he had—
He cruised as was required but
The wild waves left him sad;
You saw some great decisions made
As bigwigs met aboard
When on a peaceful happy world
Der Kaiser drew his sword.

V
Next Harding was your skipper with
The old Ohio boys
And all made merry now and then
With lusty "Ship ahoys!"
You heard the rattle of the chips
And cries of "Whatcha got?"....
"You're raised".. "I call"..."It's aces full"
And "How much in the pot?"

VI
Then Herbert Hoover came along
Decorum to restore;
(He tried to be a sailor but
He yearned to be ashore);
Depression swept down like a gale
And Herb rough going knew
No matter if ashore or
If seeking rest with you.

VII
In three wars did you do your bit:
First off the Spanish Main...
Then in the Number One World War
And lately back again;
A glamour girl you were for years
In times both high and flat
It's tough to see you finished now,
But life, kid, is like that!

Park It Here

By TRUMAN TWILL

The parking meter has become a national institution, one of a series of automatic hootnannies designed to lighten the pockets of taxpayers by taking away our money automatically, untouched by human hands.

This vending machine of public space resale over and over again to suckers who drive vehicles that are not trucks and therefore cannot be double-parked with impunity has taken its place in our daily lives along with the other familiar nuisances.

What people do about it is as standardized as what they do about all other vending machines. They bust it with the heel of their hands right in its glassy puss. Take that, and this, and that!

They fall back three strides, hoist their punting foot and let the parking meter have it right on its big, fat post, rattling every one of its tender movable parts.

They grab it where its neck would be, brace themselves and shake the living daylights out of the dad-blasted, pestiferous little son of a sea cook, and the first passerby who snickers is a dead duck.

They glower at it and mutter things unprintable in a family newspaper, with side references to the low level of public administration which permits such an outrage to befall a clean-cut citizen.

They peer at it narrowly through their bifocals, hoping to learn that the previous customer failed to use up the time he was entitled to for his down payment.

They curse the day it was put there because couldn't those iron-headed baboons in city hall have foreseen that ladies and gentlemen sometimes would be caught short with no small change?

They give it the slip, darting about their business briskly like foxes, hoping against hope they will be able to park for nothing and not get caught.

They jostle it with the weight of their bodies, to show contempt. They make vicious passes at it with the corner of the bumpers on their automobiles. They fill it with bogus money.

In short, people do about parking meters what they do about everything that can't fight back—they abuse them. When the time comes for the collection of scenes showing the United States of America as it was in the middle reaches of the 20th century, no collection will be complete without one unretouched photograph of an American lady or gentleman—ha—taking mean advantage of a poor, defenseless parking meter.

Social Affairs

REV. AND MRS. LESLIE D. VESEY of Bowling Green, O., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Elsa, to Warren James Bastian, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bastian of 306 West Columbia street.

Miss Vesey has been making her home in Marion and is instructor of art in the junior and senior high schools here. She was graduated from Bowling Green State university in June 1946 where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Beta Pi Theta and the Treble Clef club.

Mr. Bastian served four years in the Army Air Corps and since his discharge, has been attending the Cleveland College of Mortuary Science, Western Reserve university, Cleveland, O., he will complete his training in May.

The wedding will be an event of June.

A CONTRIBUTION was made to the cancer fund by Gamma Mu chapter, Delta Theta Tau, when the members met for a business meeting Tuesday evening at Hotel Harding. An associate member, Mrs. William Schorr of Hubbard, O., formerly of Marion, was present as a guest. An announcement was made that the Founder's Day dinner will be held April 22 at Ringer's Inn. Plans were made for a potluck supper to be held at the next meeting, April 15, at the home of Mrs. Jack Bray on Summit street.

A dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robinson of Copeland avenue Sunday was in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mr. Robinson. The table was centered with a decorated birthday cake and places were marked for the celebrant, Mrs. Ella Field, Mrs Stella Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. George Wood and daughters, Patty Rae and Jayne Lynn, John Lewis and David and Kenneth Robinson. The celebrant received a number of remembrances. Five generations were represented at the dinner, with Mrs. Ella Field, grandmother of the celebrant, his mother, Mrs Stella Lewis, his daughter, Mrs George Wood and his granddaughters, Patty Rae and Jayne Lynn Wood. Guests in the afternoon included Mr and Mrs. Ewart Crosky and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sach of Monroe, Mich. and Mr. and Mrs. O C Ours, Mr and Mrs. Lee Jones and Lester Russell.

Members of the Searchlight club indorsed the reciprocal trade agreement when they met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs Jess Stewart of Hane avenue. Mrs E L Hill conducted the devotions on "Easter," and for roll call the topic was "Worldwide Flashes." Mrs. L. A. Robinson gave a paper on "Russian Homes and People."

Mrs Robert Walters of Wyandot was hostess for a meeting of the Mother Study club of the Child Conservation league Thursday afternoon. Mrs Jesse Stiger was an associate hostess. The roll call topic was "Rainy Day Helps," and devotions were by Mrs. William Beachler. The study topic, "Gloomy Day Psychology," was discussed by Mrs D. A Gibb and Mrs Dale Washburn. Contributions were made to the Marion County Chapter of the Red Cross, the Cancer foundation, Society for Crippled Children and to Boys' Village. A gift was presented to Mrs. Kenneth Eichhorn, who will move to Tiffin in the near future. Mrs. Harry Brewer was elected a delegate and Mrs. G. E. Herr alternate to the spring conference to be held at Upper Sandusky April 10. The members will be guests of the Child Study club April 4 with Mrs Harold Carroll as hostess. Mrs. Beaschler conducted the contests with awards going to Mrs. Donald Williams and Mrs Kenneth Eichhorn. Mrs James Weaver was a guest. Refreshments in keeping with the Easter season were served.

Miss Martha Court was hostess for a meeting of the Wee Ten club Thursday evening at her home at 378 South Prospect street. Following a short business session the time was spent socially.

Mrs. Helen Morgan was an associate hostess for a meeting of the Friendship circle Friday night at the home of Mrs. Mildred Thome of Oak street. A short business session was followed by a social hour.

Of interest here is the announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Clara Baker of McComb, to Floyd Kagy of east of Leipsic, and the latter's sister, Miss Florence Kagy and Robert Briggs of Findlay, which will take place Easter Sunday. Miss Baker is the daughter of Mr and Mrs James M. Baker of McComb, former residents of near Marion, and her fiance and his sister are the son and daughter of Mrs Mary Kagy of east of Leipsic and the late Stephen Kagy. Mr. Briggs is the son of Mr and Mrs. Harry Briggs of near Findlay.

The wedding will take place in a double ceremony at 2:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the United Brethren church at Belmore, with Dr D W. Worthman and Rev. Lutz reading the ceremony. Miss Baker will be attended by her sister, Miss Alyce Baker, and the bridegroom-elect's nephew, Lloyd Kagy will serve as his best man. Attending Miss Kagy will be Miss Catherine Briggs, sister of her fiance, and Kenneth Bushong will serve as best man. A reception will be held in the church basement following the ceremony.

Miss Baker is a student in Memorial Hospital Training school for nurses at Lima and will be graduated in June. Mr. Kagy is employed with the Ohio Northern Breeders association at Tiffin. Miss Kagy is employed as a clerk at Leipsic and Mr. Briggs is a metal worker in Fostoria.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Adjva Bynum whose home is in North Carolina, and Earl William Markley, of No. 2 Cleveland court. The ceremony was read Saturday about noon by Dr. V. E Busler, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, in his study at the church. The bride groom, a son of Mr and Mrs. Frank Markley of Cleveland court, is employed at the Marion Engineer depot. He and his wife will make their home at No. 2 Cleveland court.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Mrs. Elda Kohbarger of 457 North Greenwood street to Alfred Kohbarger of 582 North Main street. The ceremony was read Jan. 14, 1946, in Covington, Ky. Mrs. Kohbarger is employed at the Universal Cooler and Mr. Kohbarger is a city policeman. They are making their home for the present at 457 North Greenwood street.

Club Federation Members Hear Book Reviewer

A BOOK review and music were combined for one of the most entertaining programs of the season at the April meeting of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs last evening at Hotel Harding. Despite the inclement weather there was a good-sized crowd present to hear Mrs Allene Benninghoff of Rocky River, book reviewer, and Mrs E. N Hale, soloist. Mrs. T H. Sutherland, president of the federation, presided.

Mrs. Benninghoff dramatized Sholem Asch's novel, "East River," a story of Twentieth Century New York. Mrs Hale sang a group of three numbers, "All in the April Evening," "Watch Thee and Pray Thee" and "The Years at the Spring." Her accompaniments were played by Mrs. William Ackerman Jr.

Last night's program brought to a close the series of talks and reviews planned by the program committee for the 1946-47 season, and the years activities will end May 5 with the annual observance of community fine arts day at the First Evangelical and Reformed church.

SENATOR REJECTS UN WITHOUT RUSSIA IDEA

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2—Senator George (D-Ga), declared today that any attempt to reorganize the United Nations by leaving out Russia would be futile and lead only to the formation of power blocs.

The possibilty of such a reorganization was raised by Senator Byrd (D-Va), ina senate speech yesterday calling for a showdown "with Russia and her Communistic satellites."

Byrd proposed that the current problems of Greece and Turkey—for whom President Truman is seeking $400,000,000 in American aid to counter Communist pressures—be placed before the United Nations for action immediately.

If Russia vetoes action, Byrd counseled, take steps to remove the veto privilege, if that means the retirement of Russia from the UN and she "persists in being an enemy to free peoples" then, the Virginian said bluntly, "it is better to have her outside the family than inside the family."

While George said he thought the United States made a "tactical error" in not bringing the Greek and Turkish problems before the United Nations in advance of independent United States action, he told reporters he could not agree with the implications of Byrd's proposal.

SIX MORE HOUSING UNITS READY FOR VETS

Families To Start Moving In Tomorrow.

Notification was sent to six more veterans' families today that dwelling units are available at the city-FPHA project west of Lincoln park, according to Robert E Messenger, operator-maintenance man. They are expected to start moving in tomorrow.

Twenty-four of the projected 50 units are now completed. All of the families housed at the veterans' settlement have children.

Those notified today were Stanley Case of 263 East Fairground street, one child; Albert M. O'Dowd of 120 North State street, two children; Paul Benson of 372 North State street, one child; Leo L. Harvey of 850 South Prospect street, two children; Russell Blair of 336½ Waterloo street, two children; and Dale Saunders of 762 Cheney avenue, three children.

92 PER CENT OF CROP AREA SIGNED BY AAA

Montgomery Reports on Program as Deadline Falls.

Approximately 92 per cent of all cropland acreage in Marion county is included in farm plans for participation in the 1947 AAA conservation program, according to Frank G Montgomery, county AAA chairman, today as the deadline for AAA signup fell yesterday.

Of the total 2,134 farms in Marion county 1,683 are included in this year's AAA soil conserving program, Mr. Montgomery said. Total cropland acreage in the county is estimated at more than 181,440 acres.

Most popular among the conservation practices, Mr. Montgomery pointed out, were application of lime and fertilizer and installation of tile drainage. Other soil conserving practices which farmers will follow include green manure crops, sod waterways, non grazing woodlots, pasture seeding and contour strip cropping.

Next step in the AAA program of paying farmers for practicing soil conservation methods will be to prorate the $89,116 allocated to the county among the 1,688 farms. Payments will be made after farmers this fall have indicated they have carried out the practices for which they signed up on their farm plans.

Members of the county AAA committees will attend a district meeting in Bellefontaine April 11, when a discussion will be held in procedure to be followed in making AAA payments to farmers.

Big Five Told Arms Cut Depends on Agreement

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 2—A strong hint from two small nations to the five great powers that arms limitation talks would be useless unless the major nations agree among themselves faced the delegates of the United Nations commission for conventional armaments today.

The commission was adjourned until Monday but the delegates discussed thoroughly the direct invitation from Colombia, supported by Syria, to France, Great Britain, Russia, China and the United States to lead the way in arms reduction by first agreeing among themselves.

The UN security council gathered for another session on the United States request that this country be named administrator for Pacific islands formerly mandated to Japan but taken from the Japanese by American troops.

Crawford Co. Tops Red Cross Quota

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 2—Crawford county's Red Cross campaign ended this week when receipts went $640 over the $7,890 goal set at the beginning of the drive.

Four rural communities and three Bucyrus divisions exceeded their quotas.

Results of the campaign were reported by Frank Sitler at a meeting of the county board at the Chapter house Monday night at which Mrs. Edward Hughes was elected to serve as secretary of the chapter, filling a vacancy on the official staff.

Red Cross movies were shown after the business meeting.

RECORD GREAT LAKES IRON HAULING SEEN

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 2 — Stepped-up steel production should make this season's total movement of iron ore on the Great Lakes the greatest in peacetime history, A. T. Wood, president of the lake carriers association, declared today.

"Some 75 to 80 million tons must be brought down from the northern lake-heads before shipping channels freeze over late in November," Wood asserted.

"Every available sailing day will be needed to deliver this volume of ore, on which 85 per cent of the entire country's steel production depends, and still keep pace with scheduled deliveries of coal, grain and limestone."

The association president said a shortage of railroad cars would double the fleet's normal problems this season "because coal loading will be on a touch-and-go basis."

A return last week of freezing weather, which thickened the ice jams in lower Lake Superior, has forced the fleet to stand by in winter lay-up ports.

Officials of shipping companies gather here tomorrow for the annual meeting of the Lake Carriers association.

Rev. Truax Speaks At Pension Meeting

Rev. Melvin Truax, First Church of Christ in Christian Union, was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion county Friday in the Eagles' hall. Mrs. Elizabeth Houser offered the opening prayer and the group repeated the Lord's Prayer and took part in the patriotic exercises. Music included songs by the choir, "Trust and Obey" and "Tell It Again," and W. E. Sergent and Christian Ruth sang a duet, "In the Shadow of the Cross," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Eva Parish. A song, "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder," by the group closed the program hour.

William Porter gave a report on members who are ill. A letter from Congressman Tom Jenkins to Robert Small was read and the president, Arthur Hershner read a letter on legislation proposing an increase to $60 for old age pensioners.

The need of spiritual and eternal security of the soul was emphasized by Rev. Truax in his talk and he related an example of the power of faith and prayer in bearing physical pain, suffering and privation. Jesus is coming back, he told his audience, and we should be awake to His coming. Each he said has a responsibility to God that is personal. God is personally yours. I am travelling toward the door of eternity. I want to know what is on the other side of the door; when the door swings open for me there is an eternity secure with God.

The closing prayer was by Rev. Truax.

HALF-BILLION STATE REVENUE ENVISIONED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 2—The senate finance committee chairman today cited new reports on 1947 revenues in support of an earlier stand that the state would have upwards of half a billion dollars for biennial appropriations.

Sen Albert L. Daniels (R-Highland) said figures of the state auditor showed first quarter receipts from all sources going into the general revenue fund totaled $64,432,070, an increase of $9,541,961 over the corresponding 1946 period.

Principal increase was in sales tax revenue which bounded $6,271,683 above receipts for the first three months of last year, the report showed.

Daniels' estimate was that $488,000,000 "will be available for appropriations in the 1947-48 biennium." He added if sales tax revenue continued to increase, another $20,000,000 might be on hand for use.

Daniels estimated sales tax returns for the biennium at $186,000,000.

The first report submitted to the legislature this session was from a special house committee which said the $422,000,000 taken in the state in the past two years should be used as a base for 1947-48 appropriations.

Only 18 per cent of the population is engaged in farming today.

REICH MINERS ORDER STRIKE

300,000 Set for One-Day Walkout in Protest of Food Shortage.

By The Associated Press

ESSEN, Germany, April 2—A one-day strike involving nearly 300,000 men in 171 Ruhr coal mines was ordered by trade union leaders today as a protest against food shortages The walkout will mean a loss of about 238,000 tons of sorely needed coal.

The decision was taken by an overwhelming vote of 50 mine union leaders after a three-hour session in the nearby coal mining town of Bochum, where 4,000 miners struck earlier in the day

The output of coal in the Ruhr mines has been declining steadily since March 21 because of sporadic strikes and general unrest over failure of British and German administrators to fulfill promised food ration quotas

The Bochum miners walked out as part of a general strike and demonstration in that city which apparently was intended to give moral support to the trade union conference.

Demonstrations, following up similar protestations which began last week in the British zone of occupation, also were being held at Neuss and Wesel, but scheduled protests at Cologne and Muenchen-Gladbach failed to materialize.

Bochum was the fourth city hit by coal mine strikes since public agitation over food shortages began. Previous walkouts at Dortmund, Hamborn and Duisburg sent the Ruhr coal output—vital to Europe's economy—into a tailspin

William Asbury, British regional commissioner for North Rhine-Westphalia, which includes the Ruhr, conferred today with August Schmidt, Ruhr coal miners' union leader, prior to the Bochum conference, but the nature of their discussion was not disclosed

An official announcement in Berlin said more than 50,000 Germans were involved in today's food shortage demonstrations at scattered cities in the British zone No disorders were reported

The largest demonstrations were reported to be at Hamburg, where 18,000 persons participated, at Dortmund, where 15,000 were involved and at Duisburg, where 12 000 demonstrated.

BURGLAR WINS FOOT RACE

Victim Has Gun; Thief Has His Pants; Modesty Overcomes Valor.

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, N J, April 2—Ben Zuckerman had a gun. But the burglar had his pants

The pursuit lasted only to the front door of Zuckerman's home and there modesty overcame valor

Zuckerman, a Newark restaurant operator, stopped short while the thief dashed out with his pants, $700 in cash, a wrist watch and a set of cuff links valued at $1,500

Police later recovered the pants in an alley

C. OF C. ASKS TRIM IN OHIO'S BUDGET

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, April 2—The Ohio Chamber of Commerce today recommended cuts totaling some $40,000,000 in the 1947-48 budget submitted by Gov. Thomas J Herbert as the chamber's representatives completed analysis of the budget figures before the house finance committee

Arch D Schultz, head of the Chamber's research department, told the committee "all the university budgets, with the exception of Wilberforce's, are greatly padded" Schultz recommended the state university budgets be cut at least a half-million for the smaller institutions, and the Ohio State figures be slashed three to four millions

Schultz also suggested Ohio State tuition be boosted from $60 a year to $200, with the non-resident fee jumped to $400.

The Chamber's representative recommended the extension departments not be expanded, and declared "its work drifts into the field of propaganda"

He also recommended the state development and publicity commission's budget allowance of $75 000 either be eliminated entirely or jumped to from $750,000 to $3,000,000

"You can't do that kind of a job on $75,000," he told the committee, "so why not either discard the whole thing or give 'em enough money with which to really operate?"

House G.O.P. Rallies From Economy Defeat

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2—Rallying from a $356,000,000 defeat, their first in the Republican-controlled congress, house G O P. fiscal leaders sounded a new call today for governmental economy

"If they go on that way, there's no hope of balancing the budget or anything else," said Rep Taber of New York who, as chairman of the house appropriations committee, has spearheaded the widely-heralded Republican "economy drive"

Taber was referring to yesterday's house action adding $356,027,638 to a deficiency appropriation bill which gave the new majority party its first lacing of the 80th congress

Doomed Man Wills Eyes To Some Blinded Vet

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, April 2—A 23-year-old Springfield navy veteran of bloody Pacific fighting—scheduled to die in the electric chair tonight—has donated the corneas of his eyes "for some veteran"

"I want to try to partly atone for my crime," Russell Eugene Koons told Dr J. B C Eckstorm Ohio penitentiary physician, last night

Koons was convicted of the hatchet slaying of his mother in 1946

Immediately after his execution, the eyes will be removed and sent to the Columbia university eye bank, marked for the use of some veteran

"I saw some of the boys who lost their eyes on Guadalcanal," Dr Eckstrom quoted Koons "I want my eyes to go to some veteran"

Koons took Dr Eckstorm's request for the corneas calmly, the white-haired physician reported

"Is there anything you want, Eugene?" Dr. Eckstorm said as he entered the death row cell in which Koons sat

"No, there's nothing much I want Doc," Koons answered "I won't be around long, you know"

There was a brief silence, and Koons added

"Oh, I would like a candy bar and a pack of cigarets"

The physician obtained these items and then presented for Koons' signature an affidavit permitting the post-execution operation which may mean sight for some veteran who lost his eyes in combat.

Koons signed without further comment

Five States Approve Presidential Limits

By The Associated Press

Five states, all with Republican legislatures, have approved the proposed 22nd amendment to the United States constitution, limiting the presidency to two full terms or not more than ten years

Legislatures of Iowa, Kansas and New Hampshire approved the proposal yesterday, and the day before Maine and Michigan had given approval

To become part of the constitution, the proposal must have the approval of 36 states. Congress stipulated that the adoption process must be completed in seven years.

Official Says Warning About Mine Ignored

By The Associated Press

CENTRALIA, Ill, April 2 — An Illinois state mine inspector says his plea two years ago for closing the Centralia coal mine where 111 miners perished on March 25 was rejected by Robert M Medill who resigned yesterday as state director of mines and minerals

State investigators who today planned to resume taking testimony also were told that the mine management decided it was not "economical" to install a sprinkler system which was recommended by inspectors to keep down explosive coal dust

RITES FOR MASON HELD IN CANTON

Former Marion School Head Buried at Mt. Gilead.

Funeral services for Jesse H. Mason, 57, Canton school superinbefore the flower-banked chancel, was head of Marion's schools in the 1920's, were conducted yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist church at Canton. The school leader's body, in a bronze coffin before the flower-banked chancel, was viewed by hundreds preceding the 35-minute service The church, where Mr Mason taught a large Sunday school class, was the scene in 1901 of the funeral of President William McKinley.

This afernoon burial services were held at the family plot in Rivercliff cemetery at Mt. Gilead.

Public schools were closed and classes also were dismissed yesterday at Kent State University's Canton branch, which Mr Mason helped to establish. City hall offices also were closed in time for officials and employes to attend the funeral.

Final eulogies to Mr Mason as "a teacher and a man" and tributes for his many years as an educational and community leader were spoken by Rev. Clarence H LaRue, pastor of the church, and Rev George E Parkinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church

As a memorial to Mr. Mason the school board has voted to name after him an elementary school which is to be built in North Market Heights, Canton

TAFT AWAITS TURN TO BLAST LILIENTHAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 2—Senator Taft (R-Ohio), awaited his turn today to tear into David E. Lilienthal after a preliminary charge that the international control plan Lilienthal helped draft would give Russia a "direct voice" in American atomic energy plants

The Republican leader got that much off his chest during yesterday's senate debate on Lilienthal's nomination as chairman of the domestic atomic control commission

But Taft didn't have the floor officially Senator McKeller (D-Tex), the nominees No 1 opponent, had merely yielded for another of his frequent interruptions And the Ohioan made clear he still planned a full-dress speech against the former TVA chairman.

He centered his fire yesterday on the international control plan Lilienthal wrote with Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson

Declaring that plan proposed to set up a worldwide authority to take direction of all secret developments, Taft added that the authority would take over plants in this country as well as in other nations

"Russians, if you please," he asserted, "would get full knowledge of U. S secrets and have a direct voice in management of installations here if they were appointed to the commission"

Prospects for a quick vote appeared remote

Springfield Enjoys Cab Service as Strike Ends

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O, April 2—For the first time in 10 days Springfield had full taxi service today

A strike of 35 Liberty Cab Co drivers, affiliated with the AFL truckers union, concluded last night after a day of labor-management deliberations.

Virgil M. George, cab company owner, and Morris G Taylor, of Lima, representative of the AFL Teamsters District Council No 16 announced jointly that a "settlement x x x agreeable to all parties" had been effected. There were no other details.

OHIO HOUSE TO VOTE ON PORTAL LIMITS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 2—Party lines came sharply into focus today as the house of representatives squared off for a vote on a bill limiting portal-to-portal pay suits in Ohio to one year.

A few members of the predominantly Republican faction sided with the Democrats who generally opposed the measure by Rep. Oakley C. Collins (R-Lawrence).

The proposal, which has drawn the fire of union lobbyists, would cut two years off the present three-year deadline for filing suits for unpaid overtime or minimum wages

The house yesterday approved a proposed change in the U S constitution to limit presidents to ten years in office The vote was 115 to 11, with five Democrats joining Republicans in the voting. It now goes to the senate

The house passed 73 to 43 a measure to require majority approval of residents in unincorporated township territory before any part of the township could be annexed to a municipality At present approval is required only of residents in the part to be incorporated

Rep James J Barton (R-Cuyahoga) asked creation of a joint legislative committee to investigate State Auditor Joseph T Ferguson's office

The senate passed a measure requiring a 60 per cent favorable vote for approval of extra school levies at special or primary elections by accepting a house amendment boosting the requirement from a simple majority

Introduced in the senate was a measure by Sen David Ferguson (R-Guernsey) prohibiting any state or local public service employe from striking

RENT

spite the rapid upswing in residential construction during 1946"

The house committee vote to hike rents came yesterday in approving a bill by Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich), which would repeal government restrictions over building materials and construction as well as continue modified rent controls

Three Proposals in Bill

The house bill, as tentatively approved yesterday, would

1 Up rents 10 per cent and eliminate rent ceilings on new construction Also freed from controls would be houses not rented for the past two years, tourist hotels and tourist courts

2. Abolish provisions in the veterans housing act for allocation of building materials and for restricting commercial construction, abolish the office of housing expediter and give the President authority to place its remaining functions in another agency

3 Retain veterans preferences on rental or purchase of new houses or apartments, continue the government program for insuring mortgages up to 90 per cent of the value of new home

MISSING BLIND COUPLE COVER TRACKS WELL

Elopement Hinted but Few Clues To Whereabouts Found.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 2 — Miss Florence Frutchey, 29, Charles Owens, 40, of Cincinnati, both of whom are blind, eloped, they've managed to keep their whereabouts a well-guarded secret.

With a seeing-eye dog, the sightless couple left here Monday, and a search which extended last night to Pittsburgh and Indianapolis failed to locate them

Owens' sister-in-law, Mrs. Katie Owens of Cincinnati, Mrs. Owens telephoned here from Indianapolis yesterday that he and Miss Frutchey would be married there and go to Pittsburgh to visit his sister. Mrs. Owens refused to identify the Pittsburgh relatives, insisting the couple's whereabouts was "their business"

A Pennsylvania railroad conductor reported helping a couple of their description into a taxi at Indianapolis Monday afternoon but no word of the couple has been received here since then

The young woman's distraught mother, Mrs R. C. Frutchey, said her daughter never had been away from Columbus before and that she learned only this week that the two had been carrying on a romance through Braille correspondence for about three weeks

WANT COUNTY ROAD OFFICER

Township Group's Proposal Given Consideration by Commissioners.

A proposal now under consideration by Marion county commissioners is employment of a county road patrolman, whose primary duties would be to protect county property and make arrests for road violations.

A recommendation for a road patrolman was made recently by members of the Marion County Township Trustees and Clerks association, who approved the issue and asked commissioners to consider authorization of such an officer.

County officials are uncertain as to whether the duties of the road patrolman would fall under the jurisdiction of the sheriff or the county engineer's office, although it is generally believed his salary and expenses would have to be paid out of the county's share of the gasoline tax fund.

Examiners' Ruling

Marion county previously employed a road patrolman who operated through the sheriff's office and who was paid out of the gasoline tax fund until three years ago, when state tax examiners ruled that as long as the road patrolman functioned through the sheriff's office he was considered a sheriff's deputy and should be paid out of the general fund rather than the gasoline tax fund. Since then the county has been without a road patrolman.

Advocates of the measure maintain a road patrolman is essential for the protection of county roads and adjoining property. They maintain hundreds of dollars could be saved each year by keeping on the county's 370 miles of highway an officer with authority to make arrests for road violations.

Possible Services

Load limit restrictions could be placed on county roads during the spring season when damage results from heavy loads being hauled over county highways. Due to load restrictions now on state routes many truckers are using county highways, supporters of the measure maintain. They also suggest the road patrolman could guard against tractor lug damage, defacing of county road signs and dumping of rubbish and garbage along county right-of-ways. He could check accidents where damage to county bridges is involved, make routine inspections of road conditions, reporting to the road superintendent icy spots, sections under water, missing signs or damaged guard rails.

Those who oppose the measure claim the cost does not warrant the benefits which would be received. The cost would include a patrol car and the salary of the patrolman. They also claim the authority of such an officer would overlap with that of the sheriff's office.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Money

U. S. Has Too Much, O.W.U. Economist Says; Predicts Price Recession.

The United States is afflicted with a severe case of "billionitis," was the diagnosis given by a college economist in talking to his audience Tuesday.

The problem is that the country has too much money and no way to get rid of it." Prof. B. E. Grimes of the Ohio Wesleyan university department of economics and business administration, told the Rotary club in its weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding.

Going into the financial situation in detail, Prof. Grimes said that primarily as a result of the war the country's stock of money now totals 160. billion dollars creating a constant danger of inflation. He pointed out that the major part of this colossal store consists of 115 billion dollars worth of government securities held by the banks, and that while this presents a potential threat of inflation it also serves as a safeguard against repetition of a major economic recession such as occurred in the 1930's.

Different Situation Now

Prof. Grimes recalled that when the collapse of 1929 came, banks had a comparatively small amount of government securities and consequently found it necessary to call in commercial and industrial loans to build up their reserves. Such would not be the case should another recession come now, since the huge investments in government securities provide the banks with ample reserves, the Ohio Wesleyan economist said. All but a small part of these securities were acquired by the banks in helping finance the war, he told his audience.

Prof. Grimes said that he joins other economists in the belief that a recession is likely to come around the middle or latter part of this year as the result of a sharp readjustment of prices. This view he bases on the belief that producers of commodities will "price themselves out of the market—in other words, that prices will reach the point where they cannot be met by consumers and consequently will have to be brought down in order to come within the reach of prospective buyers. In making this prediction, however, he remphasized his opinion, and that of other economists, that the readjustment period and accompanying economic recession will be comparatively brief.

Served With Navy

Prof. Grimes is a veteran of World War II, having returned to take up his duties at Ohio Wesleyan a year ago after serving with the Navy as a Japanese language interpreter and intelligence officer.

He was introduced to his Marion audience by Leroy Clauer, Rotary program chairman for April.

C. E. Williams, manager of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co., was enrolled as a new Rotary member.

Guests of the club were John Smallshaw of Cleveland and Harley G. Roby of Minerva, O.

JESUS AS EXAMPLE TO CHILDREN CITED

Rev. Mindrup Preaches on Problems of Youth.

The obedience of Jesus to the will of Almighty God and to His parents was held up as the example for boys and girls to follow throughout their lives, by Rev. Mark Mindrup of the faculty of Our Lady of Carey Seminary at Carey, in Tuesday night's Lenten sermon at St. Mary Catholic church. His subject was "Promlems of Modern Youth."

In Christ's youth we find him in two places, in the home and the temple, the speaker pointed out. At the early age of 12 Christ was speaking with learned men and when it was time to go to the temple He was there, not that He needed prayer but to show by example His obedience to the church which He established.

Youth is the formative years and a Godless boy and girl nine times out of 10 turns out to be a Godless man or woman, he continued. Rev. Mindrup told his audience that a child that is directed by parents in childhood will grow up to thank them, and emphasized to the boys and girls that when parents deny what seems to be important privileges and pleasures, they are not trying to spoil a good time, "they are trying to help you avoid the pitfalls which they know exist—they are trying to give you a break."

In closing Rev. Mindrup emphasized the duties and obligations of home life which, he said, rests on every individual member of the family, the importance of the choice of a life companion and the importance of setting a good example for children for making the home a veritable Nazareth on earth.

Rev. James Carroll, assistant pastor, was the celebrant for benediction following the sermon.

Edison Man Burned In Kerosene Explosion

Grover Sipe of Edison suffered first and second degree burns on both hands, legs and about the waist Tuesday afternoon when kerosene exploded while he was attempting to light a stove at his home. He had on a leather jacket which prevented the upper part of his body from being burned. He was admitted to City hospital for medical treatment and the attending physician reported his condition to be "serious."

BOWLING SCORES

Dick Chamberlain rolled 13 consecutive strikes at Palace recreation Friday night in posting a high series score of 637.

He carried four strikes over from his second game, a 199 performance, and swept the alleys nine straight times in his third finishing with 277.

Chamberlain's 277 is the third highest score to have been rolled in Marion this season. Besides John Rife's 298, Leo Oberlander has posted a 279 game.

Chamberlain is a member of the Marion Metal Products team in the Industrial bowling league.

Friday night was a banner night for cracking the 600 series mark as three other performers turned the trick.

In the Industrial league, Felter scorched the alleys with scores of 226, 219, and 173 to finish with a 616 total and Gorenflo blazed 'em down the alley for scores of 188, 223, and 195 finishing with a 606 total.

In the Commercial league, Lou Myers rolled high series posting scores of 182, 222, and 198 for a 602 finish.

Oberlander turned in the high single game in the league with a 225 game and in the Industrial league rolled a 202.

Other Industrial league members who rolled over 200 were Way 209, Steinmetz 201 and 202, Gibb 203, Stephenson 210, and Owens 218.

Commercial league 200 clubers were Kingsley 209, Redding 207, Weis 208, Little 210, R. Maag 222, W. Maag 207, and Tanner 201.

OFFICIALS DISCUSS NEW AIRPORT PLANS

CAA and Engineering Co. Representatives Here.

Further steps in preparation of a master plan for the proposed municipal airport were taken Tuesday when city officials conferred with a representative of the airport engineering company recently hired by the city and with a CAA official.

E. H. Schofield of Columbus, district airport engineer, representing the CAA; S. L. Blomgren of Chicago, secretary of Clark, Hickey and Co.; Mayor Harry L. Dowler, Safety-Service director E. O. Uncapher and City Engineer T. S. Cathers conferred on preliminary plans and looked over the site of the proposed airport in the Scioto Ordnance plant area.

Tentative plans call for the construction of three runways, each 4,000 feet long and placed at 60 degree angles with each other. Each runway would have a 150 foot wide pavement with 175 feet of graded earth and sod area on each side.

The proposed plans also provide for an administration area located along the Pole Lane road, a north-south road which runs off federal highway 30-S.

Mr. Blomgren told local officials his engineering firm hopes to have the master plan completed by end of April and the city hopes to let bids on the project in June. If present plans go according to schedule, actual work may start in July, officials said.

ARE WED 50 YEARS

BUCYRUS—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keckler of Carey, parents of Charles Keckler and Mrs. Louis Galitza of Bucyrus observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary with a family gathering at their home Wednesday. The date also is the eleventh wedding anniversary for the Charles Kecklers. The couple have eight living children.

Wesleyan Service Guild Members Entertained

The Wesleyan Service Guild of Prospect Street Methodist church met Tuesday night at the church following church services with Mrs. Bonnie Chappell and Miss Frances Haas as hostesses.

For the devotions, Miss Ruth Schott conducted a service during which each member gave an offering to be sent to Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Weiss, missionaries in China. The service was as follows: a song, "The Old Rugged Cross," by the group; a stewardship recording; vocal duet, "Alone," by Miss Ruth Carr and Miss Haas, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Martha Schmidt; scripture by Mrs. Mary Fairchild and Mrs. Magdaline Flach; songs, "Near the Cross," "Courage of Christ," and "He Lives," by the group, and a poem by Miss Schott.

Mrs. Schmidt, president, was in charge of the meeting during which further plans were made for the mother-daughter party to be held May 6 at the church. Mrs. Lillian Connolly is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Refreshments were served by the hostesses in keeping with Easter.

Three Burglaries Here Reported by Police

Intruders forced entrance into the Marion Distributing Co. quarters on McWilliams court Tuesday night and knocked the knob off of the safe but were unable to open it. They stole six bottles of wine. The burglary was reported to police at 7:35 this morning.

Two other breakins were reported. The Fair Price filling station was ransacked sometime Tuesday night but nothing was taken. Entrance was gained by breaking out one of the station's windows.

The offices of the C. and O. coal yard on Breen street were ransacked but nothing was stolen it was reported Tuesday.

DELEGATES ELECTED BY JUNIOR CHAMBER

Named for State Convention Scheduled May 16-18.

Delegates to the state convention to be held at Cleveland May 16, 17 and 18 were elected in a business meeting of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at Republican headquarters.

Named as delegates were Dianne Wiseman, Robert W. Solinger, Jack Lautenslager and Donald Flach. Alternates were: first, Richard Lister; second, William Ogan; third, Donald Allen; fourth, William Parks.

A report on the Marion county cancer drive, which opened Monday, was made by Richard Lister, chairman of the campaign.

Plans were made to enter a softball team in a league next summer, and to send a delegation to the regional convention at Findlay, April 20.

A change in the bylaws was made providing for election of officers by direct vote of the membership rather than by vote of the board of directors.

Ohio State Loses Grid Captain As James Turns Professional

Detroit Lions Announce Signing of Star Massillon Halfback.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 2 — The Detroit Lions of the National Football league announced today that they had signed halfback Tommy James, captain-elect at Ohio State, to a 1947 professional contract and that the 23-year-old war veteran would give up the Buckeye captaincy to play in the Lions' backfield next fall.

James, who yesterday was barred from Ohio State's spring practice until his 1947 intentions were clarified, signed his pro contract Monday night in Columbus after a conference with Joseph A. Bach, Detroit's line coach.

Details of the contract were not disclosed but the Lions were believed to have been forced high to outbid the Cleveland Browns of the All-America conference, whose coach, Paul Brown, was James' high school mentor at Massillon, O., before he entered Ohio State in 1941.

Because the 185-pound Buckeye halfback spent three years in the Army — 28 months of it on hospital duty at a base in the Pacific — the class with which he entered Ohio State was graduated in 1945 and James has been eligible for a pro contract since that time. The Lions claimed James in last year's National league player draft.

As a sophomore with Ohio State in 1942 James was a member of the Buckeye's Big Ten championship team which beat Michigan in the final game to take the title. He missed the following three seasons while in the Army but returned last year to win a regular left halfback berth. In his two seasons with the Buckeyes James carried the ball 72 times for net gains of 504 yards, an average of seven yards a try.

Red-Haired Tommy Declares "Flattering Offer" Tipped Scales.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 2—Red-haired Tommy James of Massillon said today that "a very flattering offer" from the Detroit Lions of the National Professional Football league caused him to renounce his captaincy of Ohio State's 1947 eleven to turn professional.

What the offer was or other terms of the contract, the triple-threat halfback declined to say.

"I'm not getting any younger," James declared. "I spent three years in the service, and my class has already graduated. I'm 23 now. I just decided to cash in on my athletic ability while I had a chance."

He added that financial responsibilities since his marriage last summer to the former Rosemary Brown of Massillon figured largely in his decision.

"I didn't try to go near the squad while I was thinking this over," James said. "I have nothing against anybody here and I hope my football buddies appreciate I am doing what I think best. If I had not been elected captain, I probably would have signed to play pro ball before."

No attempt was made by any member of Ohio State's official athletic family to influence him, James said.

He denied rumors that he had been approached by the All-America conference champion Cleveland Browns, coached by his former high school mentor, Paul Brown. James was Brown's "scatback" at Massillon when the Tigers put together a chain of 39 triumphs and one tie between 1937 and 1940.

James said he expected to finish his education at Ohio State "by returning for the 1947-48 winter and spring quarters and get my degree in the college of commerce in June, 1948."

When he joins the Lions' Canadian summer camp in August, James will find a last season Buck teammate in the squad—end Cecil Souders of Bucyrus.

International Detrola Buys Blast Furnace

Special to The Star

DETROIT, April 2 — Purchase by International Detrola Corporation of the Wheeling Steel Corporation's blast furnace property in Martins Ferry, was announced today by C. Russell Feldmann, president of Detrola. The figure was not disclosed.

"This addition is a step to assure our Newport (Ky.) open hearth and rolling mill operations an annual supply of some 150,000 tons of pig iron," Feldmann said, "and thus assist in meeting our steel-making and steel-fabricating commitments, both to customers and to our own manufacturing divisions."

Detrola last August acquired the Newport and Wilders, Kentucky steel plants of the Andrews Steel company, and the latter's coal mine, to supplement Detrola's manufacturing activities in refrigeration, radio, aircraft and other fields, with plants in five states and Canada, including Universal Cooler in Marion.

The Martins Ferry furnace, which has been idle, is expected to be returned to operation in about 60 days, and employ about 120 persons.

SCHOOL STRIKE END SEEN

Wes Fesler Says He'll Deemphasize O. S. U. Football

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., April 2—Wesley Fesler, Ohio State's brand new football coach, speaking:

"To me it isn't important how many games we win. To the best of my ability, I intend to fight for and help bring about a leveling off of this great collegiate athletic program until football becomes strictly an extracurricular activity."

Which just about sums up the ideas of this former All-America star who this year came back to the campus where he gained his football game to take over what has been termed the "toughest coaching job in America."

"Maybe I'm cutting my own throat," Fesler continued, "but as head football coach I want to say to the boys of Ohio that you can't eat footballs. What counts after your football playing days are over is what kind of an education you have, and whether you can hold your own in the tougher competition of business life which follows.

"I intend to help sell Ohio State athletes to the business men of Ohio as potential leaders in their businesses. And I intend to see that they get proper training for their business careers while playing football for fun.

"I can promise you a team that will hit hard and keep on hitting. I don't know all the answers in this coaching business, but I've been around long enough to know that gentlemen can play just as good football, if not better, than rowdies."

Fesler's ideas, especially in this hot-bed of football with a stadium-filling tradition, represent a radical departure in the relationship of the athletic and academic departments.

"I say it now, and I'll say it as long as I have voice, that no boy will come to Ohio State with the primary thought of playing football," the Buck mentor declared.

"My players must do a good scholastic job or they will not play football. I have personally selected staff of associates, not assistants, who feel exactly as I do."

"We have instituted a checkup system whereby letters are sent to every professor who has a member of the football squad in his class. Each professor will report to me every three weeks on the scholastic progress of these boys. I will drop immediately from the squad any boy, I don't care who he is or how valuable he is as a player, whose record shows more than the normal number of classroom absences.

"I have found that it is not necessary to be a profane, toughacting, swaggering conceited individual to be a good athlete. Few successful businessmen are like that, and I am concerned only with developing young men for successful careers in business life.

"I will permit no profanity on the playing field or in the locker rooms. I will insist that every Ohio State athlete, appearing in public on any trip, be properly and completely dressed, including tie and coat.

"I will immediately send home from any trip, and dismiss from the squad, any boy who is discourteous or ill-mannered."

Fesler is the fifth head coach at Ohio State in seven years.

ALL-AMERICA LOOP SETS UP SCHEDULE

Signs 3 Players; First Game Billed for Aug. 29.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 2—The All-America football conference meeting under direction of its new commissioner, Admiral Jonas Ingram, sailed along smoothly today after adoption of a 1947 playing schedule and the signing of three players, one of whom jumped from the rival National league.

The session of club owners and coaches was expected to conclude today after a routine business parley following completion yesterday of a 56-game chart. The most notable change in the schedule was the Dec. 7 closing date, which, barring sectional ties, would bring about a Dec. 14, championship game—a week earlier than last season.

The season opens Friday night, Aug. 29, with the Los Angeles Dons meeting the Chicago Rockets at Chicago's Soldiers field.

The other seven clubs in the All-America will announce their schedules in their home cities at future dates.

Cecil Isbell and Bob Rodenberg, head men of the new Baltimore franchise reported the signing of Hubert Bechtol 210-pound end from the University of Texas.

Bechtol previously had signed with the Pittsburgh Steelers—(he was their No. 1 draft choice)—but Rodenberg said the contract was broken because Bechtol was under age when the signing took place.

At Pittsburgh, officials of the Steelers said they planned no action until the facts of the case had been investigated.

The Los Angeles Dons announced the signing of Russ Reader, halfback from Michigan State, and John Adretich, former Purdue halfback.

Buddy Young, the little Negro speedster who dropped out of Illinois last January, was reported by his adviser, Bob Anderson, to have turned professional. This cleared the way for contract talk between Young and Dan Topping of the New York Yankees.

Boom or Bust?

Tribe Wonders if Seerey's Hitting Sreak Will Last or Fizzle.

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., April 2—Everyone in the camp of the Cleveland Indians is wondering whether Pat Seery's current slugging streak is just one of those things or Rogers Hornby's batting instructions have produced lasting results.

If the latter is true, anything might happen to the Indians, because one of the qualities they need to be a contender is power at the plate.

Seery himself doesn't have the answer.

"How do I know how long I can keep it up?" he asks. "Do you know what tomorrow's headline is going to be?

"I think I'm watching the ball better and longer. I think I'm straightened around and I hope I can hit 40 home runs this year. That ought to drive in a lot of runs even if I don't hit more than .200."

The lantern-jawed Irishman has been a source of alternate joy and exasperation for Manager Lou Boudreau in past years. Last year he led all American league batters in strikeouts. In spite of this he tied Boudreau in the runs batted in department with 62, although he played in only 117 games and Boudreau participated in 140. His 26 home runs tied the Cleveland record for a right-handed batter.

The 24-year-old native of Oklahoma had another field day yesterday, clouting a three-run homer and a three-run double as the Tribe walloped the Chicago Cubs 15 to 9. The circuit clout was his ninth of the exhibition season.

The Indians resume their series with the Chicago White Sox here today with Red Embree and Ed Klieman drawing the hurling assignments.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

IN Junior's parlance, I was at Mary's bedside "in nothing flat."

In the bathroom, to which I had banished myself at Mary's request while she was studying the lines of my play, the armchair she had asked me to use was upset upon the floor, the magazine which I had been pretending to read was in the corner where I had hurled it in my frantic rush to the bedside of Dicky's niece.

"Mary!" I made my voice commanding as I reached her and took her twisting hands in mine. "Stop this noise this instant! Noel is in the other room! Do you want him to hear you? You know how upset he will be. And whatever your trouble is, I am sure I can help you. I promise you that. Now will you lie quietly back in your pillows while I call Dr. Twitchell?"

I gently put her back against her pillows, but her hands clung to mine so tightly that I could not release them without hurting her.

"Not him," she whispered faintly. "Just you."

"Darling girl, look at me!" I adjured her, looking her straight in the eyes and trying to compel their obedience. "Did I ever tell you an untruth in my life?"

She shook her head slowly, with a feebleness that tore at my heart. She evidently was almost spent, and I knew that I must get Dr. Twitchell immediately.

"Then you must trust me now," I said. "I promise you that I am not going to leave you tonight. I shall stay right in this room as long as you need me. But, if you do not let me get Dr. Twitchell in here now, I shall have to leave you and have Uncle Dicky telephone for a trained nurse. I cannot take the responsibility of your being seriously ill, and you are going to be that if I do not get help."

"All right," she said, with eyes suddenly frightened at my threat of leaving her, and with her hands dropping from mine. "But I want to die," she whispered desperately as I turned away from her.

That whisper kept me from going into the sitting room where Dicky, Noel and Dr. Twitchell were keeping vigil. I went no farther than the door which I opened, and through which I spoke in carefully casual tones to the physician.

"If you'll come now, Dr. Twitchell," I said, "your patient is ready for you."

"How is she?" Noel's voice was hoarse with anxiety.

"She's a bit to excited over the studying of the lines she wished to do," I answered, feeling that I must not sound the wholly optimistic note I would have liked Noel to hear.

"But I am sure she will be all right," I hastily added, as tragic fear leaped into his eyes.

"Could I—could I—see her just a second?" he asked.

"Not tonight, dear boy," I told him reluctantly, but firmly. "But I promise you that you shall see her the first thing in the morning. She positively must rest now."

I closed the door on his stricken face, and hoped fervently that Dicky would be able to cope with him. For myself, I had but one thought in mind, Mary. And I knew that I had before me the unpleasant task of telling Dr. Twitchell, in Mary's hearing, of her hysterical reaction to the study of her lines which he had permitted her.

But, surprisingly, or, rather, in keeping with Mary's character, she saved me the task.

"I've been behaving very badly, Dr. Twitchell," she said.
